

Six Pump Court

PLANNING INQUIRY UPDATE 2022

The Planning Inquiry Update training is intended to last around an hour, and can be held both in person, or virtually. The suggested topics include:

- Gathering evidence pre-Inquiry;
- Drafting Reasons for Refusal;
- Conducting Case Management Conferences;
- Preparing Statements of Case and Statements of Common Ground;
- Drafting Proofs of Evidence and Summaries;
- Tips for Giving Evidence and Cross-Examination;
- Legal Submissions and Closing Speeches;
- Costs Applications;
- Site Visits;
- Legal Challenges to Decisions

ANNE WILLIAMS, SIX PUMP COURT

Anne is a specialist planning and environmental law barrister practising at Six Pump Court Chambers. She is recommended by the Legal 500, the Chambers UK Bar Guide and is also ranked in the 2021 Planning Magazine's Annual Survey of top-rated planning law barristers. Anne's practice includes advising and appearing for Local Authorities at Planning Inquiries, including in the High Court and Court of Appeal. In addition, Anne sits as an Inspector in a number of Village Green inquiries, has been appointed to the Enabling Panel of the Design Council (CABE) and is a Visiting Professor at the Barlett School of Architecture and Planning at UCL.

ANGELICA ROKAD, SIX PUMP COURT

Angelica is a barrister practising at Six Pump Court Chambers, with a growing planning practice. She is regularly instructed to represent parties, including public bodies, at multi day planning inquiries and receives regular instructions to prosecute planning cases on behalf of Local Authorities in both the Crown and the Magistrates' Court. In addition, she has a busy paperwork practice, and has experience of drafting Pre-Action Protocol Letters, grounds of appeal and advising on prospects in relation to judicial review claims in the High Court.